No.: (02) 928 8762 to 65 Website: http://www.daprdp.net/	World Bank (WB)	PRDP is a six-year national government platform which aims to i) increase rural incomes, and enhance farm and fishery productivity in 16 regions and 80 provinces and ii) make the agriculture and fishery sector more market- oriented and climate-resilient. Specifically, the project seeks to achieve the following: i) at least 5 percent increase annually in real household incomes of farmer beneficiaries; ii) 30 percent increase in incomes of beneficiaries involved with enterprise development; iii) 7 percent increase in value of annual marketed output; and iv) 20 percent increase in the number of farmers and fishers with improved access to the services of the Department of Agriculture (DA). In partnership with local government units (LGUs) and the private sector, the Project shall provide key infrastructure, facilities, technology and information to raise incomes, productivity and competitiveness in targeted areas.	An LGU that is interested to take part in the PRDP must send a Letter of Intent (LOI) to the Project through the concerned DA RFO. In most cases, the participating PLGU shall identify and implement interventions. To officially commence the partnership between the PRDP and the LGU, both parties shall enter into a Memorandum of Agreement (MOA). The critical role of PLGUs in the development of the region's priority commodity/ies will be identifying appropriate interventions based on the VCA. This will be followed by the crafting of a PCIP, which is a three-year rolling plan that rationalizes the interventions within the various segments of the value chain of commodities that are of significance to the province and that will contribute to the national goals of the agriculture and fishery sector. The PLGU will list various subprojects as reflected in the PCIP, following the corresponding requirements depending on the type of a subproject. This will be followed by a series of trainings to capacitate the LGU in the preparation of various requirements such as Feasibility Study (FS), Business Plan (BP), Detailed Engineering Design (DED), etc.	Ongoing facility.
